most recent studies suggest a low risk of flare which is less if patients have quiet disease for at least 6 months prior to conception the mthfr mutation is common— as many as 50% of Americans have it—but having the mutation does not change anything for most people necrotizing fasciitis, an infection of the fascia of deep muscle, should be considered in the differential diagnosis of cellulitis evitare il contatto con la pelle indossando guanti ed abbigliamento da laboratorio.